BROOKLYN SCOUTS WILL HAVE THREE MORE DAYS OF NATIONAL JAMBOREE

Completion of final arrangements for the Brooklyn Council contingent going to the National Jamboree, to be held in Washington, D. C. were announced today by the Jamboree executive committee.

It was particularly pointed out that Brooklyn Jamboree Scouts will stay three extra days in Washington and one full day in Philadelphia, where they will attend a banquet. The fee will remain at its original low total of $40 and will include carfare, meals and miscellaneous expenses.

The Scouts will leave early Sunday morning, June 27 and will arrive in Washington in the early afternoon. They will lunch aboard the train and have supper in camp. As the Jamboree actually does not get under way till the 30th, the Scouts will have ample time to visit the numerous interesting sights in the nation's capitol. Some may take a trip through the national treasury building and learn the rudiments in art of manufacturing money. Others will find Congressional library and other Government buildings of major interest.

Committee Sets May 1 Camp-O-Ree Deadline

This is the final notice for the Camp-O-Ree. All applications for entry into the borough-wide camping event must be in at Headquarters by Saturday, May 1.

Final plans for the Brooklyn Council Camp-O-Ree, to be held at Fort Hamilton, May 22 and 23, have been completed, Edward Smith, chairman of the Rally Committee, announced today.

All Scoutmasters are urged to submit their Troop's application, including the names of one full patrol and two alternates, to headquarters immediately.

SCOUTERS GAIN BEAVER HONOR AT PUBLIC COURT

A capacity audience of more than 1,000 persons witnessed the borough-wide Public Court of Honor, first in the history of Brooklyn Scouting, last Tuesday evening, in the auditorium of the Girls Commercial High School, Classon Avenue and Eastern Parkway.

Plan Guide Group For Visiting Scouts

Preliminary plans now are being formulated for the organization of a Brooklyn Scout Guide Group, to direct out-of-town Scouts stopping in this city prior to their departure to the National and World Jamborees, Scout Executive Lindsley F. Kimball, announced today. The unit will be one of the numerous summer community service projects and will be directed by Herbert D. Wojan, chairman of the summer Activities Committee.

A great many travelling Jamboree Scout contingents will stop in Brooklyn, either going to or on their return from Washington and Europe. These scouts, literally, will be lost in the metropolis and miss the numerous sights without someone to show them about the borough and city.

All Brooklyn Scouts and Scouters, who are willing to perform a "real good turn" to a brother Scout, are urged to write to "Doc" Wojan at Scout Headquarters, 114 Remsen St., stating the day and hours available for guide duty, age, address and rank.

Similar guide groups also are being formed in the other four Councils in the city. All units will be under the direct supervision of a committee from the National Council consisting of John R. Long, chairman, O. D. Sharpe and E. H. Vitalius.

DOCTOR JOINS TROOP

Dr. Noah Barysh of 9214 Ridge Boulevard, formerly troop physician and committeeman of Troop 30 in Chantanqua Council, Jamestown, N. Y., has accepted the same position with Troop 334 of Atlantic District.

James E. Finegan

The feature of the evening was the presentation of the Silver Beaver Award to five prominent Brooklyn Scouters by Scout Commissioner James E. Finegan, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The Silver Beaver, highest distinction in Scouting, is presented to those Scouters who have accredited themselves to Scouting and their respective communities, and for their accomplishments to further the standards of modern boyhood.

The recipients of the award were: Thornton C. Thayer, Charles Lewis, Paul Stewart, Mons. J. Jerome Reddy and Sidney Weiss. In the absence of both Monsignor Reddy and Mr. Lewis, the awards were received by the Rev. Francis A. Froehlick and a Scout, who will present the Silver Beavers at a later date.

Jamboree Front:

From June 30 to July 9 the Scouts will be kept pretty well occupied following the Jamboree program.

The Brooklyn contingent will break camp on July 10, a day after the closing of the national Scout extravaganza, and go to Philadelphia, where they will be guests of the Scouts of the "city of brotherly love." They also will be dined at a large banquet.

While in Philadelphia, the Scouts will go on a sightseeing tour via buses. They will visit the historically famous Continental Hall, closely view the Liberty Bell and many other famous places of the revolutionary era.

The Scouts will leave Philadelphia about 8 P. M. and return to Brooklyn around 10:30 p. m.

It also was announced that the National Foundation will provide tents, cots, bed-ticks, for Scouts and leaders and a small steamer trunk for each Troops equipment, Jamboree Troop flags and Sisal Craft paper for each Troop to be used as ground cloth in the tents.

The Pennsylvania Railroad agreed that they will provide a car for transportation of any general equipment if necessary. This car will be ready at the Pennsylvania Railroad the day before the departure for the Jamboree.

Trouping

with the Troops

By LIONEL GOLDEN

We've lost ourselves in S-324's Reflector. They recently celebrated their tenth birthday with a party. Over 90 were present but that didn't make the paper interesting. They turned their Troop Roster into a Roaster . . . some of the gags were terrific.

The "Spirit of 204" had a two page issue this month with a three page supplement for April Fool. They weren't fooling though when they headlined that they were S-204 for the 16th consecutive year. The PL's of the Troop took over the program last week . . . S-271 held one of those things, too. The new officers promptly broke a paddle over the erstwhile SPL's seat. Cute boys. That's the same Troop that attended a hike called for eight—at eight, gave the leaders ten minutes leeway and left them flat. It takes three Scouts to carry 131's knot board . . . The Eagles of S-286 are three and a half points ahead of the Panthers 512. Sounds close, doesn't it?

The Owl Patrol of 269 certainly had a narrow escape. They were just turning into Coyotes when Norman Even- sen came in with a new Owl Banner . . . A brush fire out at Hollis was nipped in the bud by the Aztec Patrol of 137 . . . Troop 41 of Bath Beach defeated the Edgewood Church, 13-8, in a baseball game at Dyker Park last week . . . There's a poiple copy of the Orator of Troop 116 at hand. It's all hand done with some good cartooning ideas. The Troop is planning a minstrel and dance in the near future.

Troop 60 scalped Captain Freddi's Indians, 24-14, at what was supposed to be an innocent basketball game. Perhaps the Indians didn't know 60 had lost only one game this year . . . A council fire and blowout was jointly held on Committeeman Wel's lawn by Troops 161 and 326 last Friday. Their card said it was a success. We're certainly glad to hear it—how about telling us the details. Our last column reminded us of a serial in the movies.
