

Ten Mile River Scout Museum Historian and Related Patches

Starting in 2004, the Ten Mile River Scout Museum issued annually a series of Museum Historian Patches, which are given free to Scouts visiting the Museum and satisfying any requirements, including sometimes answering a quiz. In subsequent years, related patches and rockers were issued:

- Museum Explorer (patches and rockers) – For Scouts participating in Museum programs outside of the Museum Building.
- Museum Award – Used for general recognition purposes.
- Museum Member – Provided to Museum dues-paid members.
- Museum Trustee – Provided to Museum Trustees.

Note: The Museum issued the 2020 series of patches even though T.M.R. did not operate the three traditional Scout camps due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Explanation of the Prototypes: In 1999 with the permission of each of the then five New York City Lodges, The Ten Mile River Scout Museum issued a set of Y2K commemorative patches representing each of the five lodges with a flap that was significant to the TMR Camp that was their Home Base. Since doing these flaps in essentially a novel process not often used, the then Memorabilia Committee of the Museum ordered about 12 sets. The intent was not to produce unique items but for the Memorabilia committee to have first dibs on a set of these new patches. But when the patches arrived the Memorabilia Committee wanted a number of changes, which were then agreed to at a meeting resulting in the improved official sets that were issued.

Differences between prototypes and actual issues

- Camp Aquehonga

Prototype (No. 11)- Incorrect spelling “CAMP AQUEHOHGA”.
Actual (No. 17) - Correct spelling “CAMP AQUEHONGA.”
- Camp Brooklyn

Prototype (No. 8) - Poorly designed red arrow.
Actual (No. 14) - Improved red arrow design.
Actual (No. 14) - Gutter/leader line of Taleguah lodge highlighted in silver-mylar thread.
- Camp Man

Prototype (No. 9) – Deer missing an eye.
Actual (No. 15) – Deer has an eye.
Prototype (No. 9) – “QUEENS BOY SCOUTS, CAMP MAN” in sign gray thread.
Actual (No. 15) – “QUEENS BOY SCOUTS, CAMP MAN” in sign silver-mylar thread.
- Camp Manhattan

Prototype (No. 10) – Sign sides has gray thread.
Actual (No. 16) – Sign sides has silver-mylar thread.
Prototype (No. 10) – No dashes in “MAN A HATTIN”.
Actual (No. 16) – Dashes in “MAN-A-HATTIN”.
- Camp Ranachqua

Actual (No. 13) – Details in Blockhouse roof (like where the fletching of the arrow touches the roof) improved with silver-mylar thread.
